DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

1. Claims 1-2, 8, 10-12 and 17-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Maglica '772. Maglica '772 discloses a flashlight head 23 having a light emitting object 60 positioned therein; an electrically conducting battery chamber adapted to be removably attached to said flashlight head, said battery chamber 21 adapted to receive and make an electrical connection with at least one cell; and a wave spring 39 positioned between said electrically conducting battery chamber and said flashlight head 23 whereby said wave spring is at least partially compressed when said battery chamber is attached to said flashlight head and an electrical connection is made between said at least one cell positioned in said battery chamber and said light emitting object through said wave spring. Regarding claim 2, flashlight head further comprises a reflector 101.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 3-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Maglica '772 in view of Witte. Maglica '772 discloses the claimed invention except for the teaching of the light source being used. Witte teaches that various light emitters such as incandescent lamps or white LEDs can be used with the flashlight. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to substitute an incandescent lamp or LED for the light emitter of Maglica '772 in order to provide an alternatively effective and efficient light emitter.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Maglica '772 in view of Huang. Maglica '772 discloses the claimed invention except for the teaching of the positive terminal spring. Huang teaches a positive coil spring for making electrical connection from light emitter and battery. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the flashlight of Maglica '772 to include the positive coil spring in order to efficiently connect the light emitter to the battery.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 20-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Maglica '772 in view of Maglica '265. Maglica '772 discloses the claimed invention except for specific teaching that the flashlight head or battery chamber is made of stainless steel or aluminum. Maglica '265 teaches a flashlight head and battery chamber made of stainless steel or aluminum. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the flashlight of Maglica '772 so as to made of aluminum or stainless steel as taught by Maglica '265 in order to provide a long lasting durable flashlight.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 13-16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Galli discloses a flashlight similar to applicant's invention.
